Healthcare Staffing is more competitive than ever. Theodore Drew and Associates will help you get certified and sharpen your competitive edge without having to cut your budget

"OK, I want to get Joint Commission Certified but I want to do it the cheapest and fastest way, where do I start?"

- 1) READ THE STANDARDS MANUAL FROM COVER TO COVER
This is absolutely necessary for an organization to understand what is expected from the Joint Commission.
- 2) IDENTIFY A PROJECT MANAGER TO LEAD YOUR ORGANIZATIONS THROUGH THE PROCESS
This person, and likely 1 to 2 others, will be among your best, brightest and will dedicate probably 75 to 100% of their time to this project depending on how many other people in the organization will have time to help.
- 3) PERFORM A GAP ANALYSIS
Identify your organization's strengths and weaknesses according to the Joint Commission standards. Review each standard one by one.
- 4) START YOUR PERFORMANCE IMPROVEMENT PROCESS
Gather as much existing data as possible then put tracking systems in place for each of your measures. Gather data for at least 4 months to ensure reliable tracking and accurate results.
- 5) PERFORM INITIAL FILE REVIEW
This will help you gauge roughly how much labor you have in store. This is the heart of the review, and the most time consuming.
- 6) PERFORM POLICY AND PROCEDURE REVIEW
If you don't have policies, start creating them according to the Joint Commission's specifications. The Standards manual has identified each standard that requires a specific policy.

By the time you have exhausted the time and money of internally completing these initial "get started right" steps you will have paid for the T.D. & Associates entire certification process plus expenses! Expert assistance, excellent customer service and a flawless review are just a phone call away.
